

LET'S CATCH UP AT BOOTH #1609 AT GLASSBUILD

This year, we're celebrating with some former members of the Deceuninck team who are coming out of retirement to attend GlassBuild.

Preparing for this year's upcoming GlassBuild event fills me with excitement, pride and a bit of nostalgia.

As always, I can't wait to see familiar faces and catch up with old friends like I do every year at GlassBuild.

This year, I'm especially honored to celebrate Deceuninck's 50th anniversary by welcoming some former members of our team. Now in retirement, they're heading to GlassBuild to celebrate their contributions to our success over these past five decades.

Be sure to stop by booth #1609 to say hello and reminisce about the past. While you're there, let me introduce you to our current leaders and team members from engineering, product management, sales and marketing who are carrying us forward into the next half century.

I'm also thrilled to show off the other big developments from Deceuninck at booth #1609:

- The new Revolution XL® French door, for welcoming in the beauty of the great outdoors
- Our new window systems and the latest product updates
- Current window trends and colors
- Where Deceuninck's been and where we're headed for the next 50 years!

WE CAN'T WAIT TO SEE YOU
SEPT. 17 – 19 IN ATLANTA!

GlassBuild America offers conversation, connections and contacts for the glass, window and door industry.

This year's expo features 450 exhibiting companies across manufacturing, distributing, fabricating, retailing and dealing for flat glass and residential windows and doors.
