Deceuninck Hosts Fifth Future Fabricators

Deceuninck North America welcomed more fabricators to its Monroe headquarters for its fifth annual Future Fabricators event, February 5 and 6, reporting a record turnout.

During the two-day workshop, attendees representing more than a dozen different companies learned about Deceuninck North America operations and the state of the fenestration industry, product innovations, and advanced material science solutions for next-gen applications.

“These leaders are the bedrock of the fenestration industry,” said Filip Geeraert, president and CEO, Deceuninck North America. “The annual gathering allows us to connect with customers and pave the way for the future as we share insights and work collaboratively to meet challenges.”

Design industry expert Holly O’Driscoll led the group in an interactive session on Design Thinking. She is the former global design thinking leader and innovation strategist for Procter & Gamble, USA. She has built a reputation as a master human-centered innovation strategist, trainer, and facilitator.
